

Using blank outline map of Canada, label the following cities: Montreal, Toronto and Vancouver. Color and label the following provinces: Quebec (Blue), Ontario (Red), British Columbia (Yellow), Nunavut (orange)

Montreal Language Distribution		Using the chart below cite examples Do the Quebecois form a distinct ethnicity within the Canadian nationality or a second nation separate altogether from Anglo-Canadian? Nation: a culturally distinctive group of people occupying a region and bound together by a sense of unity arising from shared ethnicity, beliefs, and customs. Nations desire territory. Allegiance would be to Quebec more than to Canada.	Ethnicity: Social status, usually a minority group within a country. Have common cultural traits: religion, customs, origins. The distinction is critical, because if Quebecois is recognized as a separate nationality from Anglo-Canadian, the Quebec government would have a much stronger justification for breaking away from Canada to form an independent country.

Vancouver In Canada's western region, Vancouver, British Columbia is being transformed into a region where the Pacific Rim meets North America. Explain how the influx of Asian people and economic power has dynamically changed the architecture and landscape of the city.	Nation - Quebec	Ethnicity
What has been the reaction of longtime residents in Vancouver?	Explain how Vancouver shows how global forces extend beyond borders into other geographic realms.
